VOL. III. — PORTLAND OREGON: MONDAY MORNING DECEMBER 7 1863. — NO. 259

T ALCOHOLIC,
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
VEGETABLE EXTRACT!
A PURE TONIC.
DR. HOOFLAND'S
GERMAN BITTERS,
PREPARED BY
DR. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PENN,
WILL EFFECTUALLY CURE
LIVER COMPLAINT,
DYSPEPSIA,
JAUNDICE,
Chronic or Nervous Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all diseases arising from a disordered Liver or Stomach

such as Constipation, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Fever and Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and great Depression of Spirits.

And will positively prevent Yellow Fever, Bilious Fever, &c.

THEY CONTAIN
NO ALCOHOL OR BAD WHISKY!

They will cure the above diseases in ninety nine cases out of a hundred.

Induced by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood-gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters; which, instead of curing, only aggravate disease and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public, and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation.

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,
PHYSICIANS
and
CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?
If you do, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others. I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

J. NEWTON BROWN.

Phila., June 23, 1861

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters."

PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans — Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer "State of Maine," from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbrook, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears — to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to health.

MONDAY MORNING, DEC 7, 1863

Notice.

The members of the State Union Central Committee are requested to meet in Salem on Wednesday the 6th day of January next Questions in regard to the time and place of holding a State Convention and other matters of importance will be presented for the consideration of the committee A full attendance is desired

JOHN H MOORES, Chairman

SALEM, Dec 4th, 1863

The members of the Central Committee addressed in the above notice, were elected at a convention composed of the Union members of the Legislature and others, held at Salem 11th October, 1862, and are the following gentlemen

John H Moores, Marion, Chairman, N Witt, Josephine, E F Russell, Jacksonville Geo E Briggs, Douglas, H E Blake, Curry; T D Winchester, Coose, B J Pengra, Lane, A G Hovey, Benton, W H Wilson, Umpqua, Thos Montieth, Linn Isaac H Butler, Polk, Geo H Steward, Yamhill, D P Thompson, Clackamas, T H Pearne, Multnomah, William Logan, Wasco R C Combs, Umatilla, J M Kirkpatrick, Baker, T R Cornelius, Washington J. W Watts, Columbia, James Taylor, Clatsop, C H Davidson, Tillamook

We hope that the request of the Chairman will be complied with, and that every member will be present, it is highly important that the action of the committee should be well considered and judicious, as we have no doubt it will be

Upon this will depend the time and place of holding a State Convention and the work to be done by it when in session. We trust the time will not be postponed to so late a day as has been usual heretofore, and for the convenience of our Southern friends, who are obliged to travel by land at much discomfort, we have no doubt that delegates from this section of the State, will cheerfully go to the highest point up the Willamette by water, which may be deemed expedient

The purpose of the convention will be the nomination of a candidate for the next Congress, and for the office of State Printer, probably the Committee will also provide for the election of delegates to the National Convention to nominate a candidate for the Presidency, and it may be thought advisable in order to avoid the necessity of another call, to nominate electors to be voted for in November. All these matters, however, rest with the discretion of the Committee, and we mention them to show the importance of the trust confided to its members. The patriotic sentiment of Oregon only deserves a fair opportunity to prove its strength and will confidently rely upon the judgment of those who have its management in their hands, to give it free course, so that it may be manifested by a cordial and thorough endorsement of the policy of the Government in employing the most decisive and effectual measures to quell the rebellion and to preserve the Union in its integrity and power.

The New Congress.

To-day, the Thirty eighth Congress of the United States commences its session. As the friends of the Administration are understood to have a working majority in the House, it is likely that its organization will be readily effected by the election of Speaker—probably Colfax of Indiana—and other officers If so, the President's Message will be sent in to-morrow, and telegraphed to this coast, so that we may expect to receive an abstract at farthest by Saturday. We shall give it to our readers at the earliest moment possible, as it is likely to be a document of the highest interest.

The present Congress enters upon its momentous and responsible duties, at a time in our national history, when the perils of the country demand on the part of its members, the most unswerving fidelity and the loftiest patriotism. If they fail in these—if they allow selfish schemes or hopes of mere political gain and triumph to lead them aside from the service of popular freedom, their action may be a flagrant and a terrible curse to the land. But if, as we trust the event shall prove, they are faithful and true, and stand firm by the glorious heritage of the Union, their work will give a new impulse to the nation, and lift it to the highest grade of human civilization. Questions of vital consequence, involving the integrity, the independence, the very life of the republic, must press upon their attention and must be decided. If these are considered and settled, in the spirit of patriotism and republican liberty, the career of the United States will henceforward be one of bright, righteous and substantial progress, proving to mankind that the people can govern themselves and support and defend the institutions of freedom, as well against the treason of domestic foes, as the jealousy and hate of foreign rivals Let us hope, then, that the members of the new Congress will all "be guided and governed in the right way," so that their service shall secure for us, victory over the rebellion and prosperity through the land, while its results shall cause future generations to rise up and call them blessed and patriotic benefactors

Decision Concerning Stamp Duties

Office of U S Assessor of Internal Revenue, District of Oregon, PORTLAND, Dec 1 1863

The attention of all persons engaged in the sale of any of the articles mentioned in schedule C, of the U. S Law, July, 1862, and amendments thereto of March, 1863 is called to the following extracts of a circular issued by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to wit

In the first paragraph of Schedule C the articles are divided into four classes as follows

1st Any preparation or compound wherein the person making or preparing the same has or claims to have any private formula or secret or art for the making or preparing the same

2d Any preparation or composition whatever wherein the person making or preparing the same has or claims to have any exclusive right or title to the making or preparing the same

3d Any preparation or composition whatsoever which is prepared uttered vended or exposed for sale under any letters patent

4th Any preparation or composition whatever which is held out or recommended to the public by the makers venders, or proprietors thereof as a proprietary medicine, or as a remedy or specific for any disease diseases or affections whatever affecting the human or animal body

All articles belonging to any of the first three classes such as inks blackings, cosmetics, sauces flavoring extracts, polishes culinary or [illegible] or compositions of any nature whatever which purport to have been prepared under any private formula or occult secret or art, or in the making of which the maker claims any exclusive right or title or which are prepared under any letters patent are as fully subject to the stamp duty as those of the 4th class

From and after October 1 1862 none of the articles named in Schedule C including perfumery, cosmetics, and playing cards as well as articles in the above described classes, whether they are of foreign or domestic manufacture can be lawfully offered for sale, without having the requisite stamp affixed By the 27th section of the act of March 3d 1863, any person who shall offer for sale any of the articles named, without the same being duly stamped whether he is the manufacturer or a dealer is subject to all the duties liabilities and penalties imposed by the act of July 1, 1862 for such sale

All persons, whether dealers or manufacturers are required to affix and duly cancel the stamps at once upon all such articles as are offered for sale by them Unstamped articles in the hands of persons other than the manufacturers, which are merely stored in the original packages and not offered for sale will not be liable to confiscation but all goods which are found exposed for sale upon the shelves or counters, or which have been removed from the original package, are subject to forfeiture under the provisions of section 109, unless the requisite stamps are affixed and canceled

All persons neglecting to comply with the provisions of the law, above referred to, must abide the penalties prescribed by law

THOMAS FRAZAR, Assessor of Oregon

P S—Proprietary Stamps can be had at the U S Collector's Office, in Portland

IMPORTANT REVENUE DECISION —The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has recently decided that Stamps may be affixed to notes, deeds, mortgages and other instruments of that class by either maker or the receiver He says

The instruments mentioned are evidences of contracts which require at least two parties These parties are antagonistic in interest, and the instrument is designed and held by the one party as evidence of his rights or claims against the other A note is not made for the use or benefit of the grantor but each instrument for the use and benefit of the party other than the maker Such being the case, it is the clear meaning of the statute that the duty of paying the tax specified, or what is equivalent affixing the appropriate stamp, is not imposed peculiarly on one party, but may be performed by either Both are, indeed, charged with the responsibility of seeing that it is done But it is no more incumbent on one than on the other to do it And what Congress has determined may be done by either, it is not competent for court or commissioner to say that it shall be done by only one If the duty of affixing the stamp was imposed exclusively on one party, it would be but just that the other should escape the consequences of a default which he could not prevent. But the act provided that a penalty may be visited on both On the maker of the unstamped instrument a fine of $50 on the person for whose use it was made the loss of the instrument itself The punishment intended for the former may never be inflicted that, intended for the other is inevitable Surely the heavier and more certain penalty was not designed to be visited on an innocent person, or, if an offender at all the least culpable, such a visitation is appropriate only to the substantive offense of an omission to do a positively prescribed duty, and if the phraseology of the act was of doubtful import this consideration would determine the construction

In commercial transactions, notes, checks and drafts are often transmitted by mail in payment of dues If such evidences of indebtedness are to be deemed void when unstamped by the debtor, and to be incapable of being validated on receipt by the creditor, the most meritorious party to an instrument would be punished for the carelessness or bad faith of the other, and be relieved from an obligation which he once voluntarily assumed The grievance arising from such an interpretation of the will of Congress would be intolerable It would render the law odious, without advantage to the revenue Rather than adopt it, I should hold that the maker of an instrument, by duly executing it, gives authority to the person for whose use it is made to affix and cancel the stamp The time when an instrument is used may become a question for the Courts to determine I do not see how it can come before the Commissioner.

It may be suggested, however, that if a note or check is to be considered as used when delivered, it does not follow that it cannot be stamped by the promisee or grantee. The delivery is not the act of one party. An acceptance by the order is necessary for its completion, and for this after an examination of the instrument tendered, sufficient time for a discreet determination of any question affecting it is necessary to be allowed The grantee may refuse to accept an unstamped deed placed in his hands by the grantor on discovering the defect or he may signify its acceptance by affixing the stamp The acceptance, to be binding, must be an absolute assent of the mind, which is not to be inferred from a mere possession without means of knowing the contents, or from possession for a time insufficient for the detection of blemishes An acceptance may be in the qualified degree, as, for instance subject to the right to affix the proper stamp, which, if properly done, will suffice There are no fractions of a day in law, and I see no reason why a grantee may not perform such an act at any hour within the day of delivery and thus save his deed

I have no doubt that holders of real estate may sleep soundly on titles the evidences of which are stamped by themselves at the time of delivery, and that the time of delivery is capable of such reasonable extension in law as is sufficient for the intelligent performance of the act when proper diligence is used

UP-COUNTRY ITEMS —The Circuit Court will commence its session at the Dalles this week The trial of Van Tichenal, charged with the murder of McDaniel, and two horse thieves, arrested on the Des Chutes, having in their possession eight horses stolen somewhere on the Umatilla, and who were taken to the Dalles on Friday night, will receive the attention of the Court

An effort is being made to found a library for the Dalles Fire Department

The cold in the neighborhood below Umatilla is represented as so intense as to lead to the belief that interior navigation will soon be impeded if not closed Ice three inches thick was reported in the river last Thursday

EASTERN NEWS.

Dates to November 27.

WASHINGTON, Nov 26 —The following has been received

CHATTANOOGA, Nov 25th 7 P M —To H W Halleck Although the battle lasted from early dawn till dark this evening, I believe I am not premature in announcing a complete victory over Bragg. Lookout Mountain [illegible] and Missionary Ridge [illegible] carried [illegible] GRANT

WASHINGTON, Nov 26 —Official dispatches from [illegible] rebel that he is satisfied [illegible] Bragg [illegible] were pursuing them

CHATTANOOGA, Nov 25 Midnight —To H W Halleck The [illegible] have been [illegible] Missionary Ridge [illegible] capturing about 40 pieces of artillery and quantity of small arms, camp and garrison equipage besides the arms in the hands of prisoners We captured 2,000 prisoners, of whom 200 were officers of all grades from colonel down We will pursue the enemy in the morning The conduct of officers and troops was everything that could be expected Missionary Ridge was carried simultaneously at six different points THOMAS

Washington dispatches from headquarters dated Chattanooga 10 A M [illegible] of the enemy [illegible] we have captured 60 pieces [illegible] prisoners [illegible]

[illegible] the rebels will [illegible] the defensive, with a fair prospect of being turned [illegible]

Very full [illegible] dispatches [illegible] Chattanooga were received [illegible] enthusiastic admiration of the [illegible] particularly the divisions of Generals [illegible] Wood and Sheridan [illegible] command [illegible] Missionary Ridge [illegible] the thirty cannon and thousands of prisoners [illegible] were given, and officers were [illegible] along in the current of soldiers The hill besides being exceedingly steep was enfiladed by artillery both to the right and left

The number of rebel prisoners taken is 5000 but they think it will be greatly increased by stragglers, of whom large numbers were still coming in this morning

Bragg's forces were massed near Rossville, in the forks of the Chickamauga, this morning

WASHINGTON, Nov 27 —The army of the Potomac moved early yesterday morning towards Rapidan and the headquarters followed at 7 o'clock The army advanced in three columns, to cross the many different fords

The Herald's dispatch says the army moved at daylight The rebels have only a strong picket force with some artillery below Mitchell's Ford, their line extending along the south bank of the river from the vicinity of White ford to Mile Run where it turns to the south following the west bank of Mile Run, which is strongly fortified

At all the fords below Mile Run they have a small detachment of troops with artillery to prevent our scouting parties from crossing

A battle is expected at Germanna Ford, or Tacel's Mills perhaps at both The corps of A P Hill has the left of the rebel line and that of Ewell the right

On Monday the 24, Gen Gregg with his division of Cavalry, according to orders issued the evening previous crossed the Rapidan at Ellis Ford with his whole command, capturing a few prisoners and driving the rebel pickets back with some loss When he had effected his crossing he received counter manding orders, and was obliged to recross to this side

Another dispatch dated November 26th, says At Manassas artillery firing was heard during the morning, which appeared to be in the direction of one of the fords of the Rapidan

Every pound of baggage and camp equipage not necessary for daily use has been sent to the rear The last of the stores on the line of the Alexandria railroad were issued to the army late last night Early this morning the detachment of Commissaries and Quartermasters with all their tents and camp equipage, was sent to Alexandria

A special Washington dispatch to the Philadelphia Inquirer says Our correspondent at the front reports telegraphic communication with Meade at complete Should Meade succeed in gaining possession of the Virginia Central Railroad and the Richmond and Fredericksburg railroad he will be able to establish a new and shorter line of communication or himself, at the same time cutting off the main line of the enemy's communication with Richmond Lee must either fight or attempt to reach Richmond by a circuitous route

The heights of Fredericksburg are within Meade's grasp, and with this stronghold in his power, and a short line of railroad for supplies, he may move rapidly on to Richmond, reaching there in five or six days. The army is well supplied with pontoons to cross the small streams on the route

The Republican has the following in an extra The army of the Potomac advanced yesterday morning and undoubtedly crossed the Rapidan without much opposition, as firing was heard at Bealeton Station It commenced at nine o'clock and was kept up till three P M, the sound receding all the time till scarcely heard, an evidence that Lee is retreating toward Richmond

WASHINGTON, Nov 26th —Ninety six surgeons recently released from Libby prison, having been captured at various times and in different departments of the army arrived to day They embarked at Richmond but were ordered below decks until after they had passed the rebel works at Fort Darling They had no opportunity of learning the number of troops in the city The clothing and provisions which have reached there had been distributed affording great relief and cheering the suffering prisoners The supplies, however, are not equal to the demand One of the surgeons says their own condition was alleviated by permission to purchase necessaries outside of the prisons

A gentleman who reached this city to night from the Army of the Potomac says Jeff Davis reviewed Lee's troops yesterday The roads are now in tolerably good traveling condition

NEW YORK Nov 27 —The Tribune's special dispatch says It is feared that the clothing and provisions sent by our Government to the Union prisoners were never received by them, but sent to Lee's army One who saw the prisoners—some 2 000 in number—on the way to Danville says they had not a blanket All were filthy and ragged It is General Meredith's opinion also, that the rebels have broken faith in these matters

Richmond papers of Nov 24th declare that war is the sole policy of the South, and mention with considerable bitterness that one or two papers in Georgia, as well as in North Carolina are advocates of peace

The Examiner states that a plot of the Union prisoners to burn Richmond was discovered 15 Union prisoners were sent from Richmond to Danville A large prison was also being erected in Georgia for their accommodation

NEW YORK, November 27 —The Richmond papers have the following

CHARLESTON, Nov 20 —Between two and three o'clock this morning the enemy in several barges, approached Sumter Upon being hailed from the fort they discharged a volley [illegible] which was replied to by the garrison The engagement lasted but 20 minutes when the barge with Drew Moultrie [illegible] Johnson also opened on the barges It is not known what damage was done to them

CHARLESTON Nov 21 —Last night eighteen shells were thrown into the city Two buildings were struck —No person was injured The fire on Sumter [illegible] heavy during the night A spirited fight between batteries Gregg and Wagner and Bee Johnson and Moultrie took place this afternoon Gregg opened heavily on Moultrie and Wagner on Johnson Our [illegible] The contest [illegible] The firing on Sumter continues heavy

A Washington dispatch to the Herald states [illegible] 800,000 [illegible] has been accumulated [illegible] the people and the rebel government It is expected that [illegible] movement [illegible] It will be difficult to remove any considerable portion of this cotton to [illegible]

NEW YORK Nov 27 —Money active at 7 per cent sterling dull at 1 0 [illegible] Gold heavy at 1 [illegible] the Mail 20 [illegible]

THE UNION MEN —A correspondent of the Richmond Examiner writes from Abingdon (Va) under date of September 30th

There are numerous ridges and mountains running through East Tennessee [illegible] and unproductive and only covered with original forest The ridges are inhabited by the meanest and most depraved population on earth who subsist by [illegible] The former of [illegible] These are the true Union men of East Tennessee They are bold and [illegible] scouts [illegible] in all this country [illegible] in Virginia to [illegible] information [illegible] When the war broke out these people were for [illegible] and Lincoln bought them [illegible] with money and promises [illegible] would have secured them to us but our Government [illegible]

VANCOUVER MILITARY RESERVE, MISSION CLAIM &c —We learn that Dr Henry, Surveyor General W T has notified the Attorney of the parties opposed to the Mission claim at Vancouver that a communication dated 10th Oct 1863 has just been received from the Commissioner of the General Land Office enclosing a copy of that officer's decision in the long pending controversy as to the respective rights of claimants The decision of the Surveyor General made nearly two years ago is overruled and reversed by the Commissioner, who rejects the Mission claim as not recognized by law We suppose therefore that the lines of the military reserve will not be disturbed, and the Town site survey and [illegible], and the rights of the heirs of Mr [illegible] will be respected

CORRECTION —In our Saturday's issue, we noticed, under the head of "street affray," an altercation between Col. White and Dr. Loryea, in which the latter was represented as having been caned by the former We yesterday received a note from Dr. Loryea, stating that there was an altercation of words between Col White and himself, but denying in most emphatic terms that he was caned or struck, and claiming as an act of justice a rectification of the error in this morning's paper We publish the correction with much pleasure, and deeply regret having committed so grave an error We were not present at, the commencement of the difficulty, the parties being three or four yards apart when we arrived, and the report was made upon the statements of persons who claimed to have been eye witnesses We have no disposition to make an item at the expense or to the annoyance of any one, however exalted or humble their station in life A local writer is not necessarily ubiquitous, and the publication of such items only as are true of his own personal knowledge, would either very much circumscribe the local information of a paper, or entail an unwarrantable expense upon proprietors of the press generally for a corps of local reporters

THE ELECTION TO-DAY —We are requested to call attention to the card of Mr. J. Buchtel, published in our advertising columns. Mr. Buchtel is a resident of the city, and has been a member of the Department since 1857. He says that reports are in circulation with a view to his defeat as a candidate, and all he asks is fair play

C. M. CARTER, Esq, leaves for Washington in January next, to collect claims against the Government Persons sending just demands against the U. S. with him for collection, may expect an early return

COMMENDABLE.—We observed, yesterday, that the saloons in this city were generally closed. Whether this fact is the result of the recent action of the Circuit Court, or of a disposition on the part of the owners to pay becoming respect to the Lord's Day, we are not informed, but whatever the cause, all good citizens are well pleased that such institutions allow themselves and the public a day of rest.

"What exquisite embroidery, Mrs Jones! Pray, how do you find time, aside from your domestic duties, to execute such elaborate designs, and trim your own and children's garments in so remarkably elaborate and elegant a style?"

"Nothing is easier, my dear Mrs. Brown. The secret is in the fact of my being the fortunate possessor of a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine, which executes not only my ordinary family sewing in the most beautiful and durable manner, but possesses the exclusive merit of Embroidery and Braiding in the style you so much admire, with the same facility as ordinary stitching"

To the Members of the Fire Department.

A report having been circulated that I am not eligible to the Office of Chief Engineer, I would respectfully refer those upon whom the doubt has been attempted to Art 2, Sec 5 of the Act to regulate the Fire Department of the City of Portland which says

"No person shall be allowed to vote at any Engineer election unless he shall have been a member of the Department sixty days next preceding each election and no person shall be eligible to office in the Department without possessing the qualifications of a voter"

Having been a member of the Department since 1857, I presume my eligibility established

Cold and Fever.

NEWARK, OHIO, June 5 1863.

MESSRS. A L SCOVILL & CO—Gents: It is with great pleasure that I inform you of the effects of Dr MOTT'S LIVER PILLS in my family. Four years ago I had the BILIOUS FEVER, although under the care of an old school Physician, who treated me with Calomel until I was salivated, and my tongue was much swollen, and it was the cause of more pain than the disease itself. Finally he gave me up, and said that I could not live. I still lingered for six weeks, and finally got over that attack with a broken-down constitution, subject frequently to attacks of Rheumatic Pains in my bones, when exposed, at least, to cold or dampness. Since that time I have had frequent similar attacks, and have, by the use of Dr. Mott's Vegetable Liver Pills, broken up the disease without having the system injured by the use of calomel. I would not be without them on any account. Respectfully,

MATHEW TAYLOR.

LEWISTON, Sept. 3d, 1863.

This is to certify that I have used DETTER'S HAIR RESTORATIVE, and I take great pleasure in recommending it to the public as a SAFE and EFFECTUAL PREPARATION for the restoration of the Hair. I was nearly bald when I commenced the use of it, and after using two bottles, I find it has produced a fine, healthy growth of hair, and that, too, in less than two months. I can heartily recommend it for its great virtues and efficiency.

Chronic Diarrhœa Cured by DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA, when everything else had failed.

WESTFIELD, Ia, June 22, 1852.

MESSRS. A. L. SCOVILL & CO—Gents: I have been most awfully afflicted for the last three years, with the Chronic Diarrhœa, in its worst form. I have tried more than a thousand prescriptions from numerous physicians, and all without the desired effect. My case was said to be hopeless and I believed it myself. I commenced using Dr. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA with but little faith; but I followed the directions given, and to my great surprise, the fifth dose had in a measure checked my disease. It has been just ten days from the date of this certificate since I commenced using Baker's Panacea, and I am nearly as well as ever. I am confident one more twenty-five cent bottle will entirely cure me. Please accept and use this certificate as you see proper, inasmuch as I owe my life to the inventor of this invaluable Panacea.

Truly yours, DAVID T. BOTTS.

Execution of Dr Wright for the Murder of Lieut Sanborn

It may be remembered that a short time since Lieut Sanborn U S A was shot down in broad daylight in the streets of Norfolk Va while drilling a negro company of soldiers by Dr Wright. That city the murderer was arrested, tried convicted and sentenced to be hung but was allowed a week's reprieve by the President of the United States. The reprieve having expired last Friday further efforts were made to have the President still further interfere in his behalf. All being of this proving futile, the friends of the murderer concocted a plot by which he might elude his jailors and deprive justice of its victim.

On Wednesday Dr Wright made a request that a light should be furnished him in the cell that evening. Strange as the request was, no one regarded it with any suspicion. Late that evening he was visited as usual, by a portion of his family which on this occasion consisted of his wife two daughters and a small son. They all entered their father's cell, and after remaining a short time the whole party apparently retired. In gaining the street, they had to pass through a little ante room in the prison which is occupied by its officers for the transaction of business. Here one of the party in entering through a door slightly stumbled.

This was noticed by one of the turnkeys who after they had just cleverly reached the street exclaimed, By I believe that was Dr Wright in disguise. The turnkey who was sitting among those present in the room, rushed out and intercepted the party before they had got many steps. Walking up to one of them, he exclaimed, That's played out, I know you Dr Wright at the same time lifting up two heavy veils that concealed the face.

It proved to be as the lieutenant had asserted. It was Dr Wright and he appeared to be but little surprised or embarrassed at the detection and on being conducted inside the jail remarked that Desperate means were pardonable under desperate circumstances, and then walked back to his cell as unconcernedly as if nothing had occurred. The sequel of how he was disguised is now most readily shown. When he left the place of his confinement he was clad in the garments of one of his daughters, who remained behind. As her father was re entering his cell, she was found reclining upon the bed fully equipped in her passing rig the boots peering from beneath the covering. She was much chagrined at being found in this position, but was more deeply surprised and pained to find that her scheme for her father's escape had been frustrated. For her imprudent act no restraint was placed upon her but she was escorted home by one of the officers of the prison. It is asserted but we know not with what truth that the doctor had everything in readiness to facilitate his escape, and that his friends were not slow to aid him in it. It was through a mere accident that he was recognized. Being taller than the woman, he stooped as much as he dare to make himself appear small, and in doing this he stumbled while passing through a door. This caused his detection as it more clearly revealed the shape and size of his body, which the keen eye of the turnkey was quick to detect.

The execution was ordered for 10 A M, so at a much earlier hour than is the custom in such cases, the street and park in front of the prison was thronged with an anxious crowd of men, white and black (the latter predominating), and squalid children in troops. The 21st Connecticut, Col Dutton, and the 118th New York, Col Keese, forming the escort, were drawn up in line, awaiting the appearance of the prisoner. As 9 o'clock sounded Dr Wright appeared, supported on either side by his spiritual advisers, and amid the vacuum like hush of the awe stricken crowd the old man tottered down the steps trembling at first but gaining confidence and strength as he moved. He paused a moment on the sidewalk to speak to several whose faces he recognized, smiled calmly as he looked around on the sea of faces, and entering the carriage assigned him the procession moved on at a slow pace to the solemn funeral notes of the fife and drum. Throughout the city, every avenue of escape was closely guarded. Mounted scouts patrolled the streets of the route far in advance, dispersing crowds and keeping a watchful eye on every thing lest by some mischance the boast of a rescue might be put in execution.

The place of the execution was what is known as the Fair Ground, a level plot of ground in the suburbs of the city, and distant about one mile from the jail. Here was stationed three regiments—the 8th, 10th and 18th Connecticut—forming three sides of a hollow square in the centre of which stood the gallows with its suggestive paraphernalia. In an advantageous position was posted Regan's 7th New York battery, with guns unlimbered shotted and ready for action. The 2d North Carolina (colored) regiment Colonel Draper, arrived at a late hour, and formed the 4th side of the square.

The dull rolling of the drums and the modulated shrieks of fifes warned us of the coming of the victim, who with his stern escort filed into the enclosure a few minutes before ten o'clock. There was an immediate hush on all sides. The senseless clattering of the heedless throng which swelled the audience to thousands was stilled. All was morbid expectation.

There was a temporary push of the crowd on the bayonets of the guard as Dr Wright walked boldly into view, and with the aid of the ministers who surrounded him ascended the steps of the gallows and stood in full view of the masses. He seemed to have lost his nervousness of an hour before and stood calmly facing the audience as if he were on a holiday occasion.

The prisoner was in appearance the most perfect exponent of a Southerner. His face was long, the features finely moulded though prominent, and his sunken cheek piercing eyes, and long flowing hair grizzled with years like his beard bespoke him a genuine son of that recreant portion of our land which claims as its characteristic the chivalry of yore transplanted to the present. In dress he was not ostentatious but inclined rather to the slovenly style of the South. He wore a dark coat, pants buff vest and a white necktie, and withal presented a neat appearance, quite in keeping with the man.

The preliminaries of the impressive scene about to be entered were at once commenced. There was no delay no mistakes no uncertainty. Each party concerned seemed to have had his part in the drama assigned to him, and to have gotten his role by heart.

A mournful event now succeeds. His farewell with his family was the most affecting scene. One by one they embraced him clinging to each other with childish fondness. Finally the painful duty had been performed, and none remained upon the stage but Captain Shepherd and Dr Rodman the officiating clergyman. The charges against the culprit were read aloud to the assembled multitude together with the sentence of the court and the orders based thereon through out which the prisoner stood erect looking neither to the right nor left but straight forward and preserving in his body the stiffness and immobility of a statue. This form through, Dr Rodman offered a prayer for the prisoner which over he embraced him tenderly, remaining locked in his arms for some moments apparently whispering words of comfort in a willing ear and then unclasping his grasp descended the steps and the prisoner and the executioner—a man detailed from one of the regiments—stood alone and face to face beneath the gallows tree. The solemnity of this scene transcends all description. In painful silence the most tenuous and the prisoner's voice as he bowed all knelt... addressed the God he had outraged, the serried army of bayonets and the marble-like stolidity of the faces of those who bore them conspired to produce a mental effect far from inspiring to the coldest and most indifferent heart. The appeal of the doomed man was short however, and rising immediately on its conclusion he stood once more firmly on his feet and faced the few friends and many enemies who surrounded him.

His speech to the assemblage conveyed no fallacies no attempted professor assertions of good or evil intentions neither did it show the slightest sign of wavering. It was comprised in a single sentence. The deed I committed was done without malice.

The final formula of the adjustment of the noose the black cap and those minor details horrible when seen but uninteresting when written were now gone through without a shudder on his part. There he stood calmly as at first his face concealed but yet one could imagine the steady stare of his eyes and the marble fixedness of his features. All was now deathlike stillness.

Awaiting the signal which was to cast this man at one oblivious flight from his to an unknown world I noticed the hands open and close once, as if in nervous anticipation of the dreadful moment but thereupon came the sudden descent the dull sound of the cord reaching its utmost tension and in a moment the mass of yet warm flesh which we had but a moment before heard offering up a prayer to its Maker was dangling between earth and that great uncertainty —the hereafter.

Thus has Dr David M Wright paid the forfeit of his life for the shooting in cold blood of Lieut Sanborn, of the United States colored troops in the early part of July last. He came to the city from Edenton (N C) about 25 years ago and commenced the practice of medicine in which he was very successful until the occupation of this city by our troops. In appearance he may be described as being rather tall slightly bent in the shoulders with a large frame, though somewhat lean his eyes dark, with heavy brows, long hair, which extended to his shoulders, of the same color as his mustache and goatee, which were iron grey but evidently, in his younger days, very black. The family which he leaves is large, but in affluent circumstances.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters put up in quart bottles compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind the desire for Liquor is created and kept up and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes whose life to use his own language "has been saved by the Bitters"

PHILADELPHIA, ...

Messrs Jones & Evans—Well gentlemen your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am and have been for the last four years a member of Sherman's celebrated battery and under the immediate command of Captain R B Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything and if I did force a morsel down it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances and accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully though unsuccessfully to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me and advised me to see a clergyman and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital Mr Frederick Steinbron of Sixth below Arch Street advised me as a forlorn hope to try your Bitters and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles I have gained ten pounds and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr Malone, restored to life.
